BIG FEATURE OF GILROY ROUNDUP WILL BE RACING

Contestants In Events Limited To Residents Of Ten Counties In Northern California

Races will play an important part in the forthcoming Gilroy Roundup and Gymkhana scheduled for Sunday and Monday, May 29 and 30. With relay races, pony express races, and free for all races on the Gymkhana track program, followers of this part of the rodeo have a real treat in store for them.

Gilroy's ninth annual celebration has limited the eligibility of contestants to bona fide residents of the following ten counties: Santa Clara, San Mateo, San Benito, Santa Cruz, San Francisco, Monterey, Merced, Stanislaus, San Luis Obispo and Alameda. This in no way alters the caliber of the contestants, inasmuch as the contest is "open" to any resident of the above ten counties whether he be professional or non professional.

The management feels that by so limiting the contestants, it will give the real ranch cowboys a chance to compete with their "compadres" in the various thrilling and spectacular rodeo events.

The largest number of specialty events ever contracted for the Gilroy Gymkhana have already been booked, and it is claimed that this year's roundup will reach a new high from a spectator's standpoint.

ASPARAGUS WILL REIGN AS KING OF ISLETON SHOW

History Of This Colorful Region Will Be Portrayed In Pageant

The Dream of the Delta, a pageant in which 300 children will depict in song and dance the history of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Deltas, will be a feature of the Sunday afternoon program of the Thirteenth Annual Isleton Asparagus Festival, scheduled for May 21 and 22.

The story starts with the Indian tribes of the Delta, the coming of fur trappers, and then the farmers. The arrival of Chinese, Japanese and other nationalities to the Delta will be pictured on a large outdoor stage.

Planting of orchards, asparagus and other Delta crops will also be depicted in a colorful manner.

Costumes, beautiful in design and color, will clothe the children who will parade before festival visitors in song and dance typical of the different eras which they will represent.

The pageant will be typical of those for which the Isleton Asparagus Festival has become noted, and will be more interesting and picturesque than in former years.

Organizing of the pageant is being consumated by teachers of the Isleton Grammar School.

Donald Ribbero, 2253 Franklin street, San Francisco, also stopped his car, but the next two autos, driven by Jones and Ramsey in that order, failed to stop, bumping the other two machines.

LOCAL BOYS AND GIRLS SHOW GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN RECORD SUMMER SWIMMING PROGRAM

Ten Swims With Instruction Given For One Sub To Paper

"Hurrah! We go swimming all summer at the new Jeff Hi pool. Get lessons, too. Suits, towels, everything—FREE!"

Such was the enthusiasm shown by Daly City grammar school boys and girls last week when The Record announced it would sponsor a swimming club during the summer vacation, including a program of instruction.

Starting June 12 members of the Daly City Record Swimming Club will go to the new Jefferson Union High School pool one entire morning each week. Admission, suits and towels will be furnished free. Professional swimming instructors will teach crawl, side, breast and back strokes, floating, surface diving and other fundamentals.

Membership to the Daly City Record Swimming Club is earned by securing only one new one-year or renewal subscription to the paper. Subscription rate is $3 per year.

Membership cards to the club are issued at the Daly City Record office, 3317 San Jose avenue, between the hours of 12 noon and 5 p. m. on week days and 9 a. m. and 12 noon on Saturdays.

HAYLOFT TO RING WITH REVELINGS OF FUNSTERS

Overalls, aprons, straw hats and sunbonnets—what have you? Undoubtedly, you'll find them stored away in some chest or trunk and they will make just the right sort of an outfit to make you and Miranda prize winners at the barn dance, Saturday evening of next week, May 28.

The Daly City Fire Department is presenting this affair for your enjoyment and to raise funds for the maintenance of widows and orphans of members of the department, in the event of stress or disaster. In the saving of a life a fireman may lose his own, leaving a family, perhaps unprepared financially to carry on. The fire demon strikes suddenly and in unexpected places and we who are subject to protection from these fearless fighters of the flames are realizing more and more that it is our privilege to give our bit in return.

The mythical hayloft will echo with the sounds of music, laughter and dancing feet, so join in the fun, folks, Saturday evening, May 28, in Columbo Hall, Colma.

Special features have been planned and indications are that there will never be a dull moment. The trend is hayward—let's go.

Each high school district is now selecting its representatives and the county elimination will take place at numerous fairs and fiestas throughout the state, the finals taking place at Salinas, July 13, the day preceeding the rodeo and Governor Merriam will present the winner with a certificate, entitling her to a year's schooling, with board and room free, at a Salinas Junior College, or a train trip for herself and mother to

LIGHTS VITAL TO BICYCLE SAFETY

Lights are vital to safe bicycle riding at night. A flashlight clutched with the grip is not enough. Good electric and oil lights are available which will illuminate the road for some distance and make the bicycle visible.

Probably the best arrangement for the rear is a good red reflector. The small "jewels" offer practically no protection. Reflectors should be at least two inches in diameter and scientifically designed to make them visible from a distance of 500 feet by the headlights of an approaching vehicle.

Light colored clothing also helps motorists to see you. The white handkerchief tied on the arm as practiced by boy scouts helps in an emergency.

Keep to the right, close to the curb—obey all traffic rules—never carry any one on your bicycle—avoid crowded streets and highways.

This good advise is taken from a bulletin for bicyclists issued by the National Safety Council. Copies can be obtained from the office of the County Traffic Safety Commission.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

Olson, district chairman of the Fathers Forum, gave a brief outline of the purposes and aims of the organization. W. F. Van Voris, state chairman for the Fathers Forum, installed the following officers: H. G. King, president; J. A. Carnavale, first vice president; W. Ross, second vice president; M. A. Lewis, recording secretaary; M. J. Conroy, corresponding secretary; H. A. McHugh, treasurer; D. E. Hovey, sergeant at arms.

Principal James Ferguson of the Jefferson Union High School, who introduced the speakers, invited the gathering to inspect the new gymnasium and swimming pool and escorted an enthusiastic group through this new unit of the high school plant.

SALARY RAISES BEING GIVEN CONSIDERATION

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and Executive E. A. Rolison, Wednesday of this week, started consideration of the 1938-39 salary ordinance for appointive officials.

Tentatively approved, it was announced, were budget requests which asked no increases from last year. They were from the following departments: Coroner-public administrator, board of education, county executive, Memorial Park, supervisors, courts, and the county library.

Decreases from last year's requests were shown in tentative budgets for the relief home, $120 under las year's figures; the health department, $1060 less than a year ago, and the recorder's office, $50 lower.

The board was busy with details of a new WPA application for the $200,000 courthouse annex. It was decided to seek new bids for the proposed $3000 juvenile remodeling contract. Only bid submitted yesterday was $1000 higher than the county's appropriation. New bids will be opened June 21.

BOY SCOUTS TO HAVE PROGRAM AT SACRAMENTO

Twenty-sixth District American Legion To Sponsor Affair At Fair Grounds

H. G. Watters, chairman of Americanism Commission for the Department of California of the American Legion, will be in charge of the state program for Boys State at the fair grounds in Sacramento and has worked out a splendid program. W. W. Hamilton, Belmont Post No. 377, is chairman for Boys State, appointed by the Twenty-sixth District of the American Legion to organize the program in San Mateo County and reports enthusiastic support from his committee and the various high school principals so far interviewed.

The Boys State program is best defined as the American Legion's laboratory of practical political science. Learning by doing is the secret to the success of this project. It is purely an educational project. In brief it is designed to instill into young men of junior and senior high school enrollment a practical working knowledge of the structure of government.

The Twenty-sixth District of the American Legion (composed of all legion posts in the San Mateo County), will sponsor boys of junior or senior grade who rank highest on a questionaire designed to select representative boys from all high schools in San Mateo County who best fit the requirements for Boys State enrollment.

All boys who qualify, including alternates, will be notified by the committee on Boys State appointed by the Twenty-sixth District of the American Legion not later than May 20 of their selection.

All boys selected will represent the Twenty-sixth District of the American Legion at the state wide session of Boys State, held at the State Fair Grounds at Sacramento, opening Sunday, June 26 and closing Sunday, July 3. The opening day will be devoted to enrollment, physical examination, assignment of quarters and a general assembly. The remainder of the week will be devoted to organizing and conducting city, county and state governments in which the boys themselves select their own candidates, their own voting and conduct on their own initiative the various duties of all government offices.

R. L. Crane Jr., district superintendent for the Jefferson School District, Daly City, and member of the committee on Boys State for the Twenty-sixth District, American Legion, gave a short talk on the Boys State program before the Seventeenth District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, on Thursday of this week in the San Mateo Theater, San Mateo, California.

High Class Steppers To Compete In Marchbank Handicap At Tanforan

Twenty top ranking thoroughbreds have been nominated for the annual Tanforan Spring classic—the $15,000 added Marchbank Handicap. This mile and an eighth fixture, which has its third running here June 4, has in two short years established a position of unquestioned prestige on the Western turf. It was named in honor of John W. Marchbank, owner of Tanforan and one of America's foremost breeders.

Indian Broom rocketed to national prominence when he captured the first Marchbank Handicap in 1936, breaking the world record for a mile and an eighth and hanging up the standard which still stands—1:47 3-5.

Seabuiscuit won the second running last year, uncorking one of the finest efforts of his sensational career. He was to have been readied for the Marchbank Handicap this year, but in the meantime the War Admiral match race took him to New York.

Indian Broom, however, is training splendidly for another try at the rich encounter, and his prowess in the West has been firmly established

FORMER PIONEER PASSES BEYOND

One of the oldest residents of Daly City, and one of its first settlers, C. B. Eads passed on in Chico Wednesday, May 11.

Although 80 years of age, he was keenly active and interested in the progress of the world about him, the years resting lightly on his shoulders.

When a boy of 18 he accompanied his parents from Missouri to California and settled in Chico. His parents and other relatives pioneered in the settlement during this early period of our State's history.

Later on Eads became foreman of the Sierra Lumber Company as a flume builder. This work extended as far south as the Kings River region. He was noted for his expert marksmanship, being able to shoot either right or left handed.

In the long period of his life he advanced with the times from the days of ox yokes to the construction of coaches and cabinet making.

He has always been loyal to his home town, Daly City, and took great pleasure in boosting its accomplishments. His high ideals of democracy were exemplified by the honest, simple and sincere life that he led.

Last Thursday's meeting began with a series of games to warm us up. They were followed by the troop formation and salute to the colors. Considerable time was devoted to individual and patrol drill practice.

Meetings by the various patrols in their dens were next in order. Business, projects and stunts were among their accomplishments. At the troop council following, appointments of patrol leaders were confirmed. Assistant Edward McIntosh of the Waterdogs was elevated to the post of acting patrol leader, owing to the advancement of Patrol Leader Glenn Goode to acting senior patrol leader, unattached. Lawrence Christiansen, formerly of the Indians, was assigned to lead the new patrol now forming.

JUNIOR COLLEGE HIKING CLUB TO MARK TRAILS

Bay Hostels Aided By Physical Education Department Of Jaysee

Organizations in the county are showing a splendid spirit of cooperation to effect prompt establishment of a Youth Hostel chain.

The San Mateo Junior College Hiking Club, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Ginno of the Physical Education Department, volunteered its services to mark all the Hostel trails in the county. They started out this morning, clad in jeans and armed with white paint and brushes, to paint small, neat, white triangles to mark backroads leading to the three Hostels of the county.

From Montara Hostel, the trail will follow the beach and road to Half Moon Bay. Hikers were to arrive here in time for lunch. Then up the Higgins Creek road, winding around the hills, and suddenly dropping down into Purissima Canyon to the Hostel at the Pimentel's ranch. The trail continues up the creek, through the redwoods to the Skyline, following the fire road. From the Arata Hostel, on the Skyline, the trail takes the Bear Gulch Road to Woodside, where Hostelers can either continue on to the Hostels in Santa Clara County, or take a bus back home.

Bride Is Former Fiesta Queen

An altar, banked with ferns, roses, lilies and sweet peas, formed the setting of a beautiful wedding, at the First Baptist Church, Octavia and Market streets, when Miss Ruth Lindorff became the bride of Lovel Williams.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lindorff of Daly City and was queen of the San Mateo Floral Fiesta in 1935. The groom, a talented artist, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams of San Francisco.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Miles Dawson of Watsonville, a friend of both the bride and groom. The bride, attired in white satin and lace with veil and a coronet of pearls and carrying white roses and lilies of the valley, was a dream of lovliness, as she was escorted down the aisle by her father.

The bride's cousin Harriet Rasmussen was maid of honor and wore a turquoise blue lace dress and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses, iris and orchid sweet peas. Miss Marian Dunn, bridesmaid, wore an equally lovely dress of apricot shade, with a similar type of bouquet composed of yellow roses, iris and sweet peas. Miss Rasmussen and Miss Dunn are both Concord girls.

The wedding reception was served in the Calvary Baptist Church on Mission street, with floral color scheme in yellow and white. The elaborate and delicious wedding cake with cupid and silver bell gave the affair a traditional touch of youth and happiness.

Funeral services were conducted from the mortuary chapel of W. C. Lasswell & Co., Wednesday afternoon of this week, at 3 o'clock, for Mrs. Elda Metnitz, 23, of 21 East Cavour street, who died in the Villa Sanitarium, Tuesday morning of this week at 2:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Elda Metnitz, the mother of two small girls, one two years of age and the other eight months became moody and despondent and decided to end her life by taking a dose of lysol on Monday of this week. The widower, Carl Metnitz and two little daughters survive. Cremation was in Mt. Olivet.

ONE DOESN'T QUARREL WITH RELIGION

(Reprinted from the Vancouver Sun)

The threat of Hitler's German Government to retaliate upon the Holy See for the Pope's very noticeable absence from Rome upon the occasion of Hitler's visit there and for are papal protest against the plastering of Rome with crooked crosses indicates pretty plainly that Hitler is preparing to bite off a bit more than he can chew.

The impassioned Fuehrer may march into the Saar and break open the provisions of the Versailles Treaty, which every reasonable man had already admitted were foolish and unjust.

He may torment and bedevil the Jews and thus earn the suspicion and dislike of every civilized nation on earth.

He may walk into Austria, himself an Austrian, and incorporate that little country into the greater German Reich.

All these things he may do and some of them with impunity because it requires neither brains nor courage to bully those whom circumstances have made weak in physical resources.

But when he comes to deliberately pick a quarrel with religion he displays the pert audacity of the mountebank who has not sense enough to know what he is doing.

For history, any history, shows abundantly that those who set themselves up to oppress the church always come out on the losing end of the battle.

We make no pretense at ascribing any miraculous qualities to the Roman Catholic faith in making this statement. The same thing is equally true of any sect or denomination.

The plain fact is that everybody, sooner or later, comes to repose a fundamental faith in and respect for some religion.

To attack religion, therefore, is to attack a basic factor that lies dormant or active in the nature of every human being.

A blow at religion—any religion—is a blow at the fundaments of life.

One either takes religion or leaves it alone.

But only a fool—in Hitler's case an impetuous and fatuous fool, hell-bent on his own destruction—chooses to quarrel with it.

Art Graduates See National Exhibit

The high eighth grade of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School, accompanied by Miss Tobin, principal, and Mrs. Corral, art supervisor, saw the art exhibit "Index of American Design" at the Emporium. This exhibit is of national scope, giving a pictorial review of America's artistic past. It is a Federal Art Project and all paintings were done by WPA artists from various parts of the country. The guide for the afternoon was Mrs. Beatrice Judd Ryan, who spoke to the children on the value of the paintings from a historical as well as artistic angle.

The paintings exhibited showed reproductions of the actual statues, toys, puppets, marionettes, clothes, furniture and glassware made by the people in earlier centuries.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
JOHN J. McGRATH

Recovery—It is estimated that real recovery will be felt in the United States when the national income reaches between ninety and one hundred billion dollars. This will mean all those unemployed at present will have jobs. The President has offered Congress a full recovery program which is outlined as follows: Some increased spending to add to the total of dollars that the unemployed and the country's farmers have to spend, and in this way bolster production; induce railroads and business men and prospective home builders to borrow money and invest in new plant and equipment, inventories, or in homes; a study of private price controls in industry in order to effect changes in the country's anti-trust laws.

* * *

Slum Clearance—The half billion dollar slum clearance program before the House Banking and Currency Committee was defended by Federal Housing Administrator Straus. He stated that 3,000,000 families in this country today are living in sub-standard conditions.

* * *

Press Bill—Senator Minton has introduced a bill which would make it a felony to publish a known untruth. There is a great deal of opposition to this bill as many believe it will jeopardize the freedom of the press. It is believed that the present law of libel takes care of any attempt to untruth that might harm a citizen.

* * *

Navy Bill—The navy expansion bill in the Senate was passed by a vote of 56 to 28. The Bone amendments to define a mid-Pacific line of limitation for fleet activity and to confine construction to government shipyards were defeated. An amendment limiting the three new projected battleships to 36,000 tons each, until it is certain that other nations are building larger ships, was upheld.

* * *

Relief—The four and a half billion dollar relief recovery spending bill is supported by both the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. The House Appropriations Committee was informed by Relief Administrator Hopkins that he planned to care for an average of 2,800,000 unemployed for seven months with the $1,250,000,000 fund which President Roosevelt asked.

* * *

Military Bills—A bill appropriating 227 millions for civil functions of the War Department was passed by the Senate and sent to conference. The military functions bill of the War Department is also being worked on by the conferees. An outlay of 489 millions for the coming fiscal year, is called for in the Senate bill with 448 millions appropriated by the House.

* * *

WPA—All of the 2,600,000 WPA project workers received the following announcement with their pay checks from Harry Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator: It has been my desire that everyone connected with the Works Progress Administration should know and understand the rules under which we work. This is especially true of any question involving personal rights. For this reason, I want to repeat once more our rules about elections so that there can be absolutely no misunderstanding. Every person, who works for the WPA, has the right to vote in any election for any candidate he chooses. Moreover, no WPA worker is required to contribute to any political party or any campaign fund in order to hold his job. No supervisor or administrative person may attempt to influence the vote of any worker or solicit contributions to campaign funds from the people who work under him. Anyone who uses his position with the WPA in any way to influence the votes of others by threat or intimidation will be dismissed. No one will lose his WPA job because of his vote in any election or his failure to contribute to any campaign fund. This has always been an absolute rule of the WPA, and it is my responsibility and yours to see that there are no exceptions.

Different Traffic Laws Make Driving Difficult—The mere crossing of a state line may sometimes transform a safe and prudent driver into a lawbreaker and an unsafe driver—a natural result of the nonuniformity of traffic laws in the states. This is one of the conclusions in a study of traffic conditions and measures for their improvement which Congress directed the Bureau of Public Roads to make. It is generally accepted, says the bureau, that the manner of driving a motor vehicle becomes a habit and that the involuntary reflexes largely govern the handling and control of a vehicle by each individual. The involuntary response determines the reaction of the driver in emergencies. The driving habits of the individual, with few exceptions, are formed in a single state and a single community of that state. Uniform traffic regulations throughout each state, with local ordinances subject to approval by the state and enforced primarily by local officers in co-operation with the state, are recommended in the bureau report, sent to Congress.

* * *

Federal Housing—Funds amounting to approximately $63,000,000 were made available by private lending institutions to finance the construction or purchase of 14,200 small homes under the FHA plan during April. This amount exceeded by $13,000,000 the figures for April 1937 which set the high mark in FHA records for last year. These figures do not include modernization and repair loans nor large scale projects.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, May 22, on the subject "Soul and Body."

The Golden Text will be : "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God" (Ps. 42: 11). Bible selections will include the following passage from Colossians 2: 6, 16, 17: "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: . . . Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days: Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "Rightly understood, instead of possessing a sentient material form, man has a sensationless body; and God, the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, harmony, and immortality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man, — through Mind, not matter" (p. 280).

EXPERIENCED HOUSEWIFE CLUB

(By Maude LaRue Ives)

Several weeks ago, members of the Experienced Housewife Club wrote letters to various cities and towns in Wyoming seeking historical information and recipes. Quite recently some interesting data from Casper, Wyo. was received by Miss Ruth Lindorff (Mrs. Lovel Williams) and which she kindly submitted to us for publication. We regret that limited space permits us to use only a small part of the account of Casper's early days.

In 1847 Brigham Young with his company of Mormons camped on or near the ground where the city of Casper is at present situated. A great many of the wagons ferried across at the site of Fort Caspar and this was known as the Mormon Crossing and Ferry. Later in 1858 — when the Platte Bridge was constructed by Louis Guinard—it became known as the Platte Bridge Crossing.

The city of Casper derived its name from Fort Caspar, originally called Platte Bridge station. One of the outstanding Indian battles in Wyoming was fought at this fort on July 26, 1865, in which Lieutenant Caspar W. Collins lost his life while leading troops to the rescue of an ill-fated wagon train. After the fight Fort Caspar was named in honor of Lt. Collins and twenty-three years later when the town was founded it derived its name from the old fort. (The difference in spelling perpetuates an error made by a careless railway clerk and has been accepted through long usage.)

In the year 1885 the Northwestern Railway, operating from Omaha to Chadron, Nebraska, announced plans to extend its line to a point in the central part of Wyoming, where a town was to be built. It was this rumor that brought John Merritt here in the spring of 1888. His sustenance was indeed a meagre one . . . he was equipped with a round-up bed, a very few provisions and an oyster can. (One of the type used in the early days that was large enough to permit the frying of rabbit or fish . . . its purpose was a dozen-fold, for in it he also boiled his coffee, made his stew, and did practically all of his cooking)

On the evening of June 7 the Eads family, father, son and daughter, dropped into Mr. Merritt's camp and shared his hospitality. The following morning the men looked over the ground and decided to locate the town temporarily on an appropriate spot. In a few days another family arrived, then another and still others, all eager to have a part in building the new town. Business, transacted in tents and crudely constructed shacks, consisted of three general merchandise stores, one drug store, one hotel, one restaurant and several saloons.

Cowboys and Indians were the most numerous and frequent patrons and while they were in town there was always a lively time. They spent their money freely over the bars, and when their systems were sufficiently saturated with "forty-rod" whiskey, they were allowed to whoop and yell undisturbed, and to howl, fight and shoot at will. They seldom stayed in town longer than two or three days, for by that time their money was gone and they craved the rejuvenating effects of the wide open spaces.

Only a short while after the establishment of the new town the lust for gold dominated the little village. Businessmen, laborers, cowboys and many others dropped their work, took up the pick and shovel and started searching for gold on Casper mountain, eight miles to the south of the city. For a time excitement was intense, reports poured in of discovered deposits of rich ore and then, as suddenly as they rose, died again.

Then in the fall of 1888 "liquid gold" was discovered and the oil business began to flourish, so much so that in a few years news of the rich fields reached the outside world and metropolitan newspapers sent representatives to investigate and publish descriptions of activities. Refineries were erected, accompanied by a building boom, and Casper enjoyed a great deal of colorful publicity. Thousands of vehicles plied over the roads to and from the oil fields, which are 50 miles distant; oil brokers set up offices . . . excitement ran high and speculation rampant.

It was a small day's business if only a half million dollars worth of oil stocks were sold. As a result a great many interesting episodes were brought about through all the conflicts, contests and litigations that ensued between the oil companies, landgrabbers and claim-stakers.

The city commanded national and international prominence when the sensational Tea Pot Dome case monopolized newspapers headlines for a period of three years until late in '27 when the litigation was finally drawn to a conclusion.

Eventually the steady producing wells in the oil region were connected to the feeder lines and their rigs dismantled . . . the need for extensive field development was cut to the minimum, and there was an immediate downward trend in Casper's population. But the city has slowly adjusted itself to the new conditions and settled down to steady, progressive growth.

CHARLINE SACKETT
Casper Tribune-Herald

From Mrs. Thomas A. Doan, wife of one of the oldest physicians to serve Casper's community and who has commanded an active part in social activities, comes a recipe that she often used and one which she calls a

FOOL PROOF CHOCOLATE CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 cube butter
1½ cups sugar
3 slightly beaten egg yolks
2 squares melted chocolate
1¼ cups sour milk
1 teaspoons soda
3 well beaten egg whites

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolks and cream all thoroughly. Add the melted chocolate, the sour milk in which the soda has been dissolved. Alternate milk and flour. Add the vanilla. Fold in the whites. Bake 20 minutes in 350 degree oven. For icing use whipped cream or any plain white frosting.

The following recipe was contributed by Mrs. Harman Engelke, wife of a long resident cement contractor, who played a part in the making of the city.

DATE CAKE

1 box dates
2 teaspoons soda

2 eggs
1 tablespoon butter

1 teaspoon baking powder

Pour hot water over dates and combine with soda. Cream butter with sugar, add beaten eggs and combine with date mixture. Gradually stir in the flour, previously sifted with the baking powder. Bake in layers for 25 to 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Charline Sackett, reporter for the Casper Tribune-Herald, writes in part: Dutch oven cooking has been elaborated upon with the progress of newer culinary methods and is still a favorite for turning out delicious meats cooked to perfection. Here is a recipe that will make any mouth water.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

Rare Children's Books Make Up A Very Interesting Library Of Congress Book Collection

(By Hart Goodrich)

A collection of children's books at the present time is being carefully compiled by Gustav Davidson, gifted young American poet, for the Library of Congress. An anonymous benefactor, who prefers to remain so, has furnished ample funds for this project for a period of five years.

The Library of Congress is in a very favorable position to make complete collections of books in almost every field, since after 1871 a copy of every copyrighted book must be deposited with the librarian of Congress. Before that date copies were deposited with the clerk of the United States District Court.

Mr. Davidson plans to cover the field of children's literature from early Colonial days up through the nineteenth century. There are many collectors of children's books throughout the country, whom Mr. Davidson hopes to interest in the project, as there are quite a few important first editions, which are missing in the collection. However, there are 7000 titles already in the group.

It is surprising how very little is known about some of the authors of the earlier books for children. Mr. Davidson will often have to determine which of the writers used more than one pseudonym, for already books have turned up attributed to some unknown writer, and apparently the only works of his hand, that bear a striking resemblance to the works of known authors.

Do you remember these? Harry Castleman's serials, "White Horse Fred, or Julian Among the Outlaws," etc.; Sophie May's "Prudy" and "Dotty Dimple" series; the "Elsie" books of Martha Finley; the famous Horatio Alger, Jr., books—all included.

The books of an earlier day are all characterized by heavy preachments aimed at the unsuspecting little reader. No opportunity was lost by the eighteenth century writers to point a moral lesson or turn attention to the rewards of virtue. Mrs. R. S. Clarke, or "Sophie May," seems to have the honor of being the first to conclude that children should be entertained as well as lectured.

What a difference in the interesting and beautifully illustrated books of today and those of yesterday for children! And, though most of the modern books don't attempt to point out heavy moralities, I'd be willing to stand "our" children up for comparison with "their" children, for all "their" moralizing. Wouldn't you?

Poppies were blooming today at the headquarters of Daly City Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary at Daly City, as the Little red memorial flowers which the people of Daly City will wear in honor of the World War dead on Poppy Days, May 27 and 28, were being unpacked. The poppies were received from the Veterans Home at Yountville, where they were made by disabled veterans for the auxiliary.

The poppies are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium, which bloomed along the World War battle front and which inspired the famous poem, "In Flanders Field." More than ten million of them have been made this year by disabled war veterans working in government hospitals and in convalescent work rooms maintained by the auxiliary. Poppies for the state of California have been made at the Veterans Home at Yountville, Veterans Facilities at San Fernando and Palo Alto Hospital, under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Trumbull, department chairman.

"Each flower has been shaped painstakingly by the hands of some disabled veteran," said Hilda Prziborowski, the Auxiliary's Poppy Day chairman, as she examined the memorial blooms. "The poppy work is a real boon to these men, as it is the only form of employment open to them. Only men receiving little or no government compensation are given the work, with preference going to those who have families to support.

"For making the poppies and attaching the official American Legion and Auxiliary label, the veterans are paid by the auxiliary, they being the only paid workers in the entire poppy program. The auxiliary supplies the materials and advances the money to pay the men as the poppies are produced. Approximately $100,000 in earnings goes into the empty pockets of these veterans each year and, in addition, hundreds of thousands of dollars are raised for auxiliary welfare work."

ACTIVITIES FOR SPRING TERM OF JUNIOR COLLEGE

Baseball, Tennis And Track Now Occupy Attention Of Students

Wiht the near approach of the June commencement, San Mateo Junior College students are beginning to end some of the spring term's activities. Boxing, wrestling and crew have been completed. Baseball, track and tennis are ending their schedules.

With Noah Curti of South San Francisco and Cliff Johnston doing some creditable pitching, San Mateo won two league baseball games from Placer Jaysees and this Saturday will go to Modesto for a double header there. One other game with Sacramento will end the season.

The Junior College tennis players defeated the barnstorming Humboldt State players on the Matean courts in a recent series. Last season the Mateans went to Humboldt for the matches.

The track men scored 15 points in the West Coast Relays at Fresno last week end against some of the toughest of competition and will practically end their season by taking part in the Junior P. A. meet at San Jose State when the Mateans will face bay area squads.

The Junior College has made an informal application for a government loan to build new junior college buildings. Later, if congress approves such loans, the request may be made formally. The obtaining of such funds would result in the building of a fine junior college, with the money being paid back at low interest rate.

The junior college board is now considering the bids offered on its first new building on the new campus.

Dr. J. A. Sexon, president of the American Association of School Administrators, will speak at the junior college on the evening of June 6. He is also president of the California Teachers Association.

Legion Auxiliary Regular Meeting

Daly City Unit No. 410, American Legion Auxiliary, held its regular meeting, Wednesday evening of this week. A class of candidates were initiated by members of the Twenty-sixth District drill team. Members of the Post attended, with Commander Jakobsen as distinguished guest. Plans are being made for a joint meeting with the Post to be held soon.

Mrs. Hilda Prziborowski, Poppy Chairman, distributed the poppies to the many members for sale next week. The poppies for this Unit were made at the Veterans Home at Yountville under the supervision of Comrade Jack Glanville.

As June 30 is the close of the fiscal year, many plans are being made for the completion of the year's work and for the summer activities. With the state convention a month later this year and being combined with the national convention in Los Angeles, we have more time to carry out the summer program.

BIG HAT DAY AT GILROY ROUNDUP FILLS HOOSEGOW

Township Justice Of The Peace Hands Out Proclamation

"—and from this day forward until Monday, May 30, the close of the 1938 Gilroy Roundup and Gymkhana, it shall be unlawful for any Gilroyan to be seen in any public place without the regular ten-gallon hat and other western attire."

This was the ultimatum handed down by Justice of the Peace Leon Thomas, of the Gilroy Township, in connection with Gymkhana Big Hat Day, which had been decreed for Monday, May 16.

The Gymkhana Hoosegow was overcrowded with culprits for the first two or three days, but with Judge Thomas' dire threat of heavy fines for any offender it was felt that by making an example of the first violators other Gilroyans would don their western regalia post-haste.

The Hoosegow was handled by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and all of its members were deputized and empowered to arrest and encarcerate any Gilroy citizen failing to comply with Gymkhana Big Hat Day rules.

DE MILLE CALLS "BUCCANEER" BEST FILM TRIUMPH

"It's the greatest thrill of my life!"

That's the way Cecil B. DeMille refers to his latest giant production, "The Buccaneer," a sweeping epic of America's struggle for survival in the dark days of the War of 1812, which opens Sunday at the Daly City Theater.

Also Jackie Cooper in "Boy of the Streets."

"The Buccaneer" is the second picture with an American theme produced and directed by the man who won the applause of the whole world with his "Ten Commandments" and "Crusades," and is now celebrating his twenty-fifth anniversary in the motion pictures.

Film an Ambition

When asked how long he had the idea of a great American epic before producing "The Buccaneer," DeMille said that that goes back further than he can remember. He said he dreamed of a story like it ever since he was a boy back in New Jersey. Every schoolboy visions bold pirates raiding ships across the face of the seven seas, DeMille pointed out, and thinks about wars and the heroes who made his country what it is today.

Although he had the idea of a picture glorifying the greatest days of American history always in the back of his head, DeMille waited for many years until he found just the setting and story he wanted for his greatest work.

When he read the story of the amazing Jean Lafitte, pirate king and merchant prince, and his pirate crew who helped Jackson win the crucial Battle of New Orleans, he decided he had just what he wanted, "From that moment on I pictured Fredric March as the dauntless freebooter who came to the aid of the United States when it was about to be snuffed out by superior forces."

Because of his unsurpassed performances in character parts, such as Dr. Jekyll, Robert Browning, and Cellini, as well as his astounding resemblance to recently uncovered drawings of Lafitte, DeMille cast March in the title role. To play the beautiful Dutch girl who leads the pirate king away from his life of freebootery and makes a national hero of him, Franciska Gaal, the toast of Budapest, was chosen. Akim Tamiroff, the Russian star, plays the part of Dominique You, Lafitte's swashbuckling lieutenant, who has gone down in history as the leader of the daring but futile attempt to rescue Napoleon from his exile on St. Helena. Others in this cast of thousands are Margot Grahame, Walter Brennan, and Ian Keith.
